New Jersey Professor of the Year!

Tran, the vice president for student life at Rutgers University-Newark, was named the 2015 New Jersey Professor of the Year by the New Jersey Chapter of the Association of University Professors and Trustees, a national organization that recognizes outstanding educators. Tran was named New Jersey Professor of the Year for his leadership in the area of student life and his commitment to improving the student experience.

Tran has been a leader in student life for over 20 years, serving as the dean of students at several universities. He has also been a vocal advocate for student rights and is known for his ability to work with students to resolve conflicts.

Tran is a native of Vietnam and received his PhD in English from the University of California, Berkeley. He is a member of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and has published several books on the subject of Vietnamese literature.

He is also the author of several books on the subject of Vietnamese literature, including "The Song of the South" and "The Song of the North." He has also written extensively on the subject of the Vietnam War and its impact on Vietnamese society.

Tran is currently the dean of students at Rutgers University-Newark, where he is responsible for overseeing the student experience and ensuring that students have access to the resources they need to succeed.

Smoke and Silence in a Region Divided by War...In a May 2015 essay, Tran reflects on his experiences as a child in Vietnam during the Vietnam War. He writes about the impact of the war on his family and community, and how it has shaped his life. He also reflects on the enduring legacy of the war, and the ways in which it continues to affect the lives of Vietnamese Americans today.

Tran is currently the dean of students at Rutgers University-Newark, where he is responsible for overseeing the student experience and ensuring that students have access to the resources they need to succeed.

"The Song of the South" is a collection of poems and essays that explores the experience of Vietnamese Americans living in the United States. Tran is also the author of several books on the subject of Vietnamese literature, including "The Song of the North." He has also written extensively on the subject of the Vietnam War and its impact on Vietnamese society.

He is also the author of several books on the subject of Vietnamese literature, including "The Song of the South" and "The Song of the North." He has also written extensively on the subject of the Vietnam War and its impact on Vietnamese society.

Tran is currently the dean of students at Rutgers University-Newark, where he is responsible for overseeing the student experience and ensuring that students have access to the resources they need to succeed.
Come to Convocation and be part of a great new tradition!

REACHING OUT TO THOSE LIVING WITH A DEVASTATING INJURY

Wine Young opens up lab to patients and their families

Preparing Students to Take on the Global Challenges of the 21st Century

The stakes are too high for us just sit on the sidelines.

Preparing Students to Take on the Global Challenges of the 21st Century

New graduate program on United Nations provides both theory and hands-on skills

Helping Students Overcome "Physics Phobia" and Discover the Inner Workings of the World

Peter Lindenfeld sought balance between scientific and humanistic disciplines

He was a great new tradition!

and be part of

Come to Convocation

REACHING OUT TO THOSE LIVING WITH A DEVASTATING INJURY

Wine Young opens up lab to patients and their families

Preparing Students to Take on the Global Challenges of the 21st Century

The stakes are too high for us just sit on the sidelines.

Preparing Students to Take on the Global Challenges of the 21st Century

Helping Students Overcome "Physics Phobia" and Discover the Inner Workings of the World

Peter Lindenfeld sought balance between scientific and humanistic disciplines